by WASSON, SAM

Fifth Avenue, 5 A.m.

"So smart and entertaining it should come with its own popcorn - PeopleCoinciding with the sixtieth anniversary of the film version of Truman Capote's Breakfast at Tiffany's, the acclaimed, New York Times bestseller that is the definitive account of Audrey Hepburn and the making of the cultural landmark film-now updated with a new introduction by the author.

In Fifth Avenue, 5 A.M., Sam Wasson goes beyond the legend to explore the woman inside the little black dress and the film that captured the imagination of the nation in 1961-when the staid propriety of the Eisenhower years gave way to the glamorous modernity of the Kennedys.

Fifth Avenue, 5 A.M. includes an 8-page black-and-white photo insert.
